“Life-Giving Water”

by Rev. Niko Bekris

Of all the wonders of planet Earth and human physiology, the main “ingredient” that makes up the human body is, remarkably, the same one that covers three quarters of the planet- water. As we see in every corner of creation, water is synonymous with life. The greatest forests and jungles on earth grow where there is an abundance of water. Farmers require water to grow their crops, which can grow even in the most barren environment with just a little water. The sound of running water attracts animals, whether a watering hole in the African savanna or a bird bath in one’s backyard. An oasis, a patch of water found in the middle of the desert, is a life-saving, life-sustaining spot in an otherwise lifeless area. Indeed, in the last few years, Californians have seen, firsthand, just how damaging a drought in our area can be! Throughout history, in every civilization, water is seen as precious, as necessary to survival, to sustenance, and to growth.

In the Bible, as well, the Lord uses water on countless occasions to save and to sustain life. In the story of creation, in the book of Genesis, the Bible tells us that “the spirit of the Lord hovered above the waters,” as He prepared to give the earth form. (Gen 1:2) The Hebrews, fleeing the wrath of the Pharaoh of Egypt and crying to God for help, were saved when the Lord parted the Red Sea, and they passed through the waters (Exodus 14: 10-29). While wandering in the desert looking for water, Moses tapped a rock and out came water to replenish the people of God (Numbers 20: 10-13). There are countless stories of life-saving water in the Scriptures and the lives of saints.

The beginning of the Lord’s ministry on earth was his baptism by the hands of Saint John the Baptist in the Jordan River, a life-sustaining body of water in an otherwise arid land. According to Saint John Chrysostom, the Lord did not consent to be baptized because He needed to be sanctified, but rather to sanctify the waters, so that each believer may be sanctified. Much can be said about this great moment in the history of salvation that we celebrate each January, especially about how we as Orthodox Christians continue to experience the miracle of the sanctification of the waters each year- through the service of the blessing of the waters celebrated on January 5th and 6th, by baptizing our children in a font of water, and how we bless our homes the beginning of each year with holy water.

Traditionally, families ask the priest of their community to come to their home sometime between January and March (depending on the size of the parish) and celebrate a house-blessing service, in which the hymns of Theophany are chanted, and holy water is sprinkled around the home. One might ask, “Why is water used to sanctify a home? Can’t we just say prayers for the home?” The simple answer is, yes, of course we can. However (and here is the long answer), water, as we remember, is synonymous with life. It is a reminder to us of how often God used water in life-saving miracles. It is also a “tangible prayer,” in that we can touch it, feel it, and drink it. And on top of all that, we as Orthodox Christians firmly believe that God can work through created matter. Each sacrament involves something created- oil that is blessed for Holy Unction, two human beings who are blessed in Holy Matrimony, bread and wine that is consecrated during Holy Communion, and water that is blessed for Holy Baptism. Since we believe that the Holy Spirit is just as active today as He was at the Jordan River on the day of Theophany, the benefit of praying this service in the home is nothing less than making present the blessing of the Jordan in our home- spiritual strength, protection, and the peace of God.

This New Year, when we begin focusing on our New Year resolutions and things about ourselves that we want to improve, let us also focus on our connection, our relationship with the Lord, and attend one service in which water is blessed. Or at the very least, remember to pick up a bottle of holy water for the home. It will be just as sustaining to our soul as water is to the earth.

Kali Xronia!

Please note that if you would like to have your home blessed this New Year, feel free to contact either Father Stephen or Father Niko at the Cathedral office. ***

end. It was a warm and festive time enjoyed by all.

A LINK TO THOSE IN NEED

Community Link, now in its ninth year of existence, is a group of Annunciation parishioners who meet once a month on a drop-in basis to visit members of our community who may be confined due to illness or age. We travel to hospitals, nursing homes and private residences. Many of those we visit no longer have family or friends to support them and just need to know there is someone who cares. A short visit or phone call can lift one's spirits a great deal. If anyone in the community knows of any other home bound parishioners to add to our list, please contact Pauline Oetzel at poetzel@hotmail.com. Upcoming Community Link dates for 2013 are: January 19, February 16, and March 16.

"We bless You, O God most high and Lord of mercy. You are always doing great and inscrutable things with us, glorious and wonderful, and without number." A prayer of Saint Basil

YOUTH NEWS

Sunday School Korner

As we complete another year, I look back and reflect on the many blessings of our Sunday school program. In 2012 we accomplished so many things. We have increased class sizes of regular attendance, our special programs continue to draw families from all over the Bay Area, and we have a strong group of committed Sunday School teachers.

Our Christmas program was a huge success! Thank you to Chrisoula Pezo for her efforts spearheading the day's activities. Her committee did a great job as well: Our Sunday School Teachers (play), Meena Vellis /Maria Nikolakakis(art n crafts), Natalie Schrik (photography), Callie Fousekis (music), Mike Canellos (décor and food).

Photographs taken with Santa can be viewed and downloaded by going to Dropbox and viewing a folder called "Annunciation Sunday School Holiday Party". I will also put up a link on our facebook page, Annunciation Cathedral Sunday School. Questions, please contact Natalie Schrik at Natalie.schrik@gmail.com.

Please 'like' us on Facebook: "Annunciation Cathedral Sunday School."

Our Food Drive had record-breaking donations this year and we were able to exceed our goals! Thank you to a very giving community.

January 2012 promises to be the beginning of a great year! We begin the year in our Upper School with plans for a fruitful Oratorical Festival. Topics are already available online at www.goarch.org. Parents are encouraged to get their children involved in this very rewarding program. It also looks great on high school and college applications. Details to come next month, with our festival in March.

Please make every effort to bring the children/ grandchildren to Sunday School on time. Lessons and art projects begin at 10:30am. Instruction is for one hour and then the children are escorted to communion. January, each year, in our lower grades is a time of learning about baptism, family and bible stories.

Think about including a New Year's resolution for spirituality and religion to be a top priority in your family's busy list of things to do. A strong spiritual base is important in this day for our children, as there are so many temptations in school.

Happy New Year!

Greek school classes resume January 5th

Our Cathedral Greek School held a Christmas celebration on December 15th where each class presented a Christmas song. The children were dressed in red and green and sang with joy and excitement to an audience of proud family, friends and teachers. Following the singing, there were lots of cookies and treats to be enjoyed!

We thank our wonderful teachers and the families that have supported our Greek School. Classes will resume on Saturday, January 5th. We wish the entire Annunciation community a blessed 2013!

If you have any questions, please contact Pamfilia Zambelis at pzambelis@yahoo.com.

JOY Meets at Manetas Home

On December 10, our Cathedral JOY group met at the Manetas home in Foster City, and a wonderful time was had by all. Our kids split into two teams and acted out their favorite scene from a Pixar movie, then had dinner, dessert, and made a Christmas craft project! The craft project was led by Elly Cazanis, one of our young adults who is also a graphic designer for See's Candy, and Elly showed the kids how to paint Christmas ornaments. Thanks very much to Peter and Maria Manetas, and Elly.

Next month's JOY will be at the home of the Sogotis family on January 15. Looking forward to seeing everyone there!

JOY (Junior Orthodox Youth) is open to all children grades 3-6 and typically meets the second Monday of each month.

Cathedral Young Adults Hold Dinner and Christmas Gift Exchange

As has become something of a tradition, our Cathedral young adults went to dinner at Dino's Pizza (on Filmore Street) last December 14, and held a White Elephant gift exchange, a fun game in which gifts are exchanged and "stolen" from one another during the exchanging. Another great turnout at the dinner, our young adult group continues going strong as it now completes its fourth year of programs!

Next month, a young adult discussion will be held at the Cathedral on January 31. Led by guest speaker Tom Papa-george, the topic of the discussion will be "Faith and the Work: Merging Two Distinct Areas of Life According to the Orthodox Tradition." Hope to see everyone there!

Our Cathedral Young Adult group is open to all young adults ages 22-35, and typically meets the last Thursday of each month.

Fundraiser Dinner Held for Cathedral Youth Groups at Boulevard Café, plus See's Candies!

Many, many thanks to all who turned out to support the Cathedral's youth groups at the Boulevard on December 30! Similar to the Chevy's fundraiser two years ago, 25% of all proceeds of those who came to Boulevard Café that evening between 5-9 pm with a flier were donated to the Cathedral's youth groups for 2013 (JOY, GOYA, and Young Adults). The final tally is still to be determined, but it will certainly be something significant for our youth programs. Also, thank you to all who purchased See's Candy during November and December for that youth group fundraiser. Ultimately, over $1600 worth of candy was sold, and the profit to the youth groups was almost $500! Thank you for taking the time to support.

Thank you to our devoted Youth Committee who planned and organized these two fundraisers, and help with our other programs throughout the year: Mike Canellos, Tina Kontonis, Maria Manetas, Chrisoula Pezo, and Ari Stratakis. Here's to a successful 2013!
